

Bridging ages of hospitality in Istanbul, the world's only transcontinental city, Mitsubishi Electric Elevators

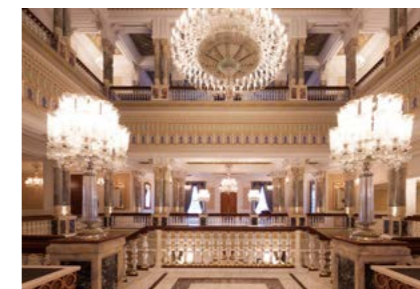

Exploring Mitsubishi Elevators & Escalators Around the World

Vol. 10

Elevators carry guests in luxury fit for a Sultan in the Çırağan Palace Kempinski Hotel on the European shores of the Bosphorus Strait. (Istanbul, Republic of Turkey)

Istanbul... A timeless crossroads of culture. The city where East meets West, and the capital of the Ottoman Empire until the birth of the Republic of Turkey in the early 20th century. Located on the shores of the magnificent Bosphorus, facing the Asian continent and overlooking the ancient city, Çırağan Palace Kempinski Istanbul offers the glamour of a genuine Ottoman palace in a city where east meets west, Europe meets Asia and history meets the contemporary. The only Ottoman Imperial Palace and Hotel on the Bosphorus, Çırağan Palace Kempinski Istanbul is unique in every sense. With its splendid style, superb location, fascinating view and resort ambiance, including a spacious green garden with palm trees, it has been an Istanbul classic since its opening in 1991. Radiating hospitality in every detail from the stately white exterior to the grandeur of the exquisite interior, Çırağan Palace hosts VIPs from around the world. Since the opening of the hotel over 27 years ago, Mitsubishi Electric elevators have been running day and night, carrying guests in palatial style. Chosen for their low "stress-free" waiting time and silent, smooth comfort, our elevators continue to win praise not only for their excellent service, but also for product quality and maintenance that meet Europe's highest safety standards. Today, in a palace that recalls the splendor of the Ottoman Empire, Mitsubishi Electric elevators continue to transport guests in legendary luxury.
